

CARRIER CALLS IT QUITS AFTER 40-YEAR TILT

Glen Moore Mailman Recalls Fighting The Elements

'COME WIND, RAIN, STORM, POSTMAN DOESN'T TARRY'

By NORMAND POIRIER (Mercury Staff Writer)

After 40 years of fighting blizzards, muddy roads, and "friendly" dogs, a Glen Moore mailman has decided to call it quits.

George W. Crosby, 62, Glen Moore, who made his first trip around his route in a horse and buggy, said last night he was going to take it easy for a while.

During the later years, he has been traveling an average of 50 miles a day serving more than 40 families in Glen Moore.

His area included Warwick Furnace, Nantmeal Village, Ludwig's Corner and Brandywine Manor.

"I knew just about everybody on my route, too," he said last night.

CROSBY STARTED as an RFD mail carrier in 1912 when he was taken on as a substitute.

"From 1912 to 1914 the area was divided into three routes," he recalled. "Then in 1914, the three were combined into two. From then until 1934, James Walter Davis and I had the two routes."

"Then in 1934, Davis retired and I took over his route, too."

Crosby was a substitute from 1912 to March 1, 1917.

Even in the horse and buggy days, he said, he would cover about 30 miles in one day.

"I used to start about 5:30 in the morning. Sometimes I'd still be out at 7 o'clock at night."

IN THE winter in those early days, he'd hitch up a sleigh behind his horse.

"I switched from the doggies to automobiles in the twenties, sometime," he recalled. "I don't recall exactly what year."

Since he first started, his route has grown from 120 families to (Continued on Page Sixteen)

VANDALS WRECK GARDEN TULIPS

Pranksters Rip Flowers, Cart Them Into Alley To Toss at Wall

Brightly colored tulips blooming gaily at a Queen street home and a Madison street home were the latest targets of Pottstown vandals.

Mrs. Leo J. Coacher, 301 Queen street, reported to police early yesterday that all the tulips in her garden had been torn off their stems late Thursday night and tossed into an alley a few blocks away.

The alley adjoins the home of Mrs. Clinton Seavers, 96 South Madison street. Two big wooden boxes holding dirt and tulips were taken from a raised walk and dashed against the alley.

THE BOXES, weighing 80 to 100 pounds, were broken beyond repair. The tulip plants were damaged badly.

Coacher passed her tulip beds at 7:45 p. m. Thursday. They were all right then. When he returned home at 11:30 p. m., the damage was done.

Mrs. Coacher reported the vandalism to police. Patrolman Paul Smith investigated.

Fire Victims Await Change in Weather To Begin Repairs

Residents of a Cherry street home damaged by fire Thursday patiently await a change in the weather so they can begin repairs.

Dominic "Nick" Cutullo, 338 Cherry, has moved his family to the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John Sliniski, 45 Laurel street.

The Cutullo home was one of three damaged by fire Thursday morning.

Rain fell through the leaky roof of the Cutullo home yesterday.

MRS. CUTULLO said, "The walls are all wet. They're worse than they were after the fire and it still stinks."

Repairs will not begin until insurance is settled and the interior of the building dries. Damage to the three-story home was limited to the second and third floors.

Gordon Stevens and his sister, Elsie, 240 Cherry street, have remained in their charred home.

Stevens said, "We haven't made any repairs yet. It's an awful mess." The third and second floors of the Stevens home were damaged.

Visiting Swedish Industrialist Notes American Generosity and Production

Generosity in feeling and quantity in production are the things about America that have impressed a Swedish industrialist who is in Pottstown on a three-day visit.

He is Gosta Osterman, president of Viskafors Rubber factory in Viskafors, Sweden, which makes tires for Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

The 41-year-old industrialist and his attractive wife spent yesterday touring the Pottstown plant, seeing everything from a new kind of automatic curing mechanism to a fashion show of plastic clothing.

Today and tomorrow, Osterman said yesterday afternoon, he would talk over tire problems with E. T. Handley, manager of the Pottstown plant.

Two Area Pupils Triumph in Annual Spelling Contest

Two Pottstown area girls won first and second places in the annual Montgomery county spelling championship held last night in Norristown High school.

Winner was Carol Higby of W. J. Wright school in Skippack. Runner-up was Mary Ann Evans of St. Eleanor's school in Collegeville.

The two were victorious over 56 other children from schools all over the county. Carol won the grand prize on the word "pavilion." Mary Ann lost out for top honors on the word "millennium."

THE WINNER won a one-week's all-expenses paid trip to Washington, D. C., to compete in the national spelling bee on May 21. She also received a 24-volume set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The second place winner received a $25 cash award and two silver engraved plaques, one for herself and one for her school.

MISS HIGBY now has a chance at more than $2000 worth of prizes in the National finals.

Others from the Pottstown area participating in the contests were:

June Coburn, Trappe Collegeville school; Margaret Schultz, Upper Merion school; Marjorie Perkiomen Joint school; Marjorie Keller, Franconia Consolidated school; Gladys Paul, Green Lane-Marlborough school; Judy Read, Lower Pottsgrove school; Margaret Schaffey, Franklin school, Pottstown.

Men Teachers Organize New Monthly Social Club

Formation of a new organization in the borough—this one for male school teachers—was announced yesterday.

Primary purpose of this organization is to be a "social club to promote better personal and social relations among the men teachers of the Pottstown schools."

The group will meet on the first Thursday of each month for its social get-togethers.

Club President Harry W. Buchert called the meeting and presented nine new members with certificates. He then introduced three, 50-year members who Thursday were presented with gold engraved watches by S. Griswold Flagg, company president.

URGES STRONGER LAW ON STRIKES

McConnell Says Action Is Needed Quickly in US Emergencies

When strikes or lockouts constitute national emergencies, the President should be free to take action not after 80 days—as the present Taft Hartley law provides—but in eight, or 13 or 19 days, or at any time he sees fit.

That's what Congressman Samuel K. McConnell Jr. of Pennsylvania said yesterday at a labor relations council conference at the Wharton school of the University of Pennsylvania.

If the president were given those powers, S. McConnell said, "I think we'd see quick settlements because it would mean the parties could no longer stall in the hope of making a deal somewhere along the present well-marked route."

The US Congressman from Montgomery county is chairman of the House Education and Labor committee.

Both this committee and the Senate labor committee are conducting hearings that will lead to changes and revisions in the present Taft-Hartley law.

GOOD WILL FIRE OFFICIALS GET 10-DAY TERMS

Judge Dannehower Fines Three Defendants $100 Apiece

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, April 10.—Three Good Will Fire company leaders were sentenced yesterday to ten days in Montgomery county prison for having lost machines in the fire house. It was a comparatively light sentence for gambling in Montgomery county.

Leslie D. Rhoads, president; Robert Roth, financial secretary (and company chief); and Paul F. Kilburn, former treasurer, all pleaded guilty before Judge William F. Dannehower, who also fined them $100 apiece.

The formal charge against them was setting up and permitting gambling devices.

In recent gambling cases in Montgomery county, those convicted have been receiving sentences of 30 days and $500, with the jail part of the sentence reduced to 15 days if the fine was paid.

THE SIX SLOT machines seized in the county raid on the Good Will Fire house the past Jan. 17 were not in operation, Chief County Detective Albert Murphy testified. They were in the kitchen, covered by blankets and chairs.

The plead-guilty proceeding were highlighted by a fervent, 15-minute plea for leniency made by firemen's attorney, Joseph L. Prince.

"There isn't a person in Pottstown who wants these men to go to jail," the attorney declared.

Thunder C-r-a-c-k-s Add Background to Drumming Raindrops

Pottstonians got plenty of noise along with their rain yesterday morning.

Thunderclaps were heard by many for the first time since the past Fall, as the heavy clouds rolled together and vented their watery anger on unlucky borough residents whose business took them out of doors.

Adding to the ominous rumble of thunder was the drumming of raindrops on street and rooftops as the showers lashed the borough.

Experienced rain-watchers said it sounded like a typical early Spring rain.

OTHER TYPICAL WET weather noises included the splash of streams from rain spouts and gutters, the gurgling of sewer outlets gobbling the overflow of gutters, the gurgle of rivulets running through loose stones in the gutters and the wheezing of automobile tires on the drenched streets.

The lowering sky continued overcast with malevolent clouds as the steady rain came to a grudging halt late in the morning.

Today the clouds are scheduled to make way for a cool, fair day, with temperatures in the low 50's. Tomorrow the clouds will return and the air will continue cool.

Two Cars Smashed In 'Stop Sign' Crash

Almost $1000 damage resulted when one car hit another last night at 9:20 o'clock at the intersection of Swamp pike and Route 663.

William F. Roberts, Reichtsville RD 1, reported he was stopped for the Stop sign at the intersection when the north-bound vehicle of Edward Kraft, Reaver county, collided with his car.

Jeffersonville State Troopers Raymond Miller and Harry Neiman investigated. They estimated $600 damage to Kraft's car and $500 damage to Roberts'.

Managers of most of these plants said that defense production now forms such a small part of their total output that even a sudden and large cutback would not result in any serious drop in employment.

At Jacobs, which does a large amount of defense work, Floyd J. Sisto, vice president and general manager, said that, despite this fact, a sudden end to the Korean war would not hurt Jacobs seriously.

"First of all," he said, "we do not anticipate a cut in our operations inasmuch as the jet engine program (Jacobs makes large numbers of jet engine assemblies) is so important."

"Regardless of whether the emergency is over or not, I believe the jet program will go on."

WHAT'S MORE, Sisto said, Jacobs expects to expand its production of such items for civilian use as assemblies for household appliances, farm machinery and gear boxes for all types of machines and vehicles.

Jacobs has an engineering staff of 60 men who are working on a helicopter program that would be useful for civilians as well as the military and on expanding civilian output generally.

Rather than shrinking, Sisto said, Jacobs expects to expand by building on the large tracts of land at the Jacobs-owned Pottstown airport, Limerick.

Morris R. Gavin, Spicer's plant manager said, "I would think that if we get a quick peace in Korea, there is bound to be a cutback in defense spending."

"It would affect us somewhat, but the effect would be very minor. Most of our production at this time is going into civilian uses."

GAVIN CAUTIONED that his prediction could be upset if a cutback in defense spending should (Continued on Last Page)

Water Firm Awaits Board's OK of Plans To Dam Perkiomen

The Philadelphia Suburban Water company is awaiting State Water and Power board approval of plans to build its huge dam across the Perkiomen creek at Green Lane.

Friends of the Perkiomen, a group which fought the big water company for several years, this week lost its fight when the State board granted the company permission to construct the $4,200,000 dam.

Harold S. Schutt, president of the company, said yesterday firm plans for the dam have been before the board for "some time." The company must have a permit before it can go ahead with construction.

The new dam will enable the firm to draw an additional 16½ million gallons of water daily from the creek.

ALLIES, REDS APPROVE SWAP HOPE RISE FOR FULL ARMISTICE

MUNSAN, Saturday, April 11 (AP)—The Allies and Communists today signed a momentous agreement at Panmunjom for exchanging sick and wounded Korean war captives beginning April 21.

It could be the turning point in the 22-month long search for an armistice in Korea.

The next step appeared to be the setting of a date for resuming truce talks, bogged down for a year and suspended since Oct. 8 on the last big issue of an overall exchange of war captives.

The disabled captive exchange pact negotiated in only five days and signed on the sixth, may provide an approach to solving the larger problem. Top Communist leaders have said they are anxious to resume the full dress armistice talks at once.

US Rear Admiral John C. Daniel and North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho signed the disabled captive exchange pact at 12:08 p.m. (10:08 p.m. Pottstown time Friday).

THEY HEADED the liaison teams which negotiated the ten-point agreement.

Most of the Allied sick and wounded will be rushed to their homes immediately after they cross the line if they are able to travel.

Those who are not well enough to travel will be taken to hospitals in Japan. The Americans will go to Tokyo and Yokohama.

The exchange must be completed within 30 days.

THE COMMUNISTS will return 600 prisoners including 120 American, 20 British, 15 Canadian, 10 Greek and Dutch and the rest in South Koreans. The UN command will return 500 North Koreans and 700 Chinese.

Hopes rose here for a quick resumption of the truce talks.

They were based not only on the swift smooth way in which the disabled captives exchange was negotiated, but also on a new communication from the Reds purporting to offer a "concession" on how to handle prisoners unwilling to be sent home.

In Tokyo, Gen. Mark Clark, UN commander, authorized his liaison officers to sign the sick and wounded agreement at Panmunjom. But he withheld comment on the latest Red bid for resumption of the truce talks which was mainly a restatement of a proposal by Premier Chou En Lai on March 30.

RUSSIA PLEDGES TO AID RETURN OF US PRISONERS

North Koreans Hold Civilians Seized at Beginning Of Fighting

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The State department said today Russia has promised to help obtain the release of 13 Americans seized by North Korean Communists at the outbreak of the Korean war nearly three years ago.

The department said the Russian Foreign office notified the American embassy in Moscow the past weekend it would act in response to an appeal from the US minister.

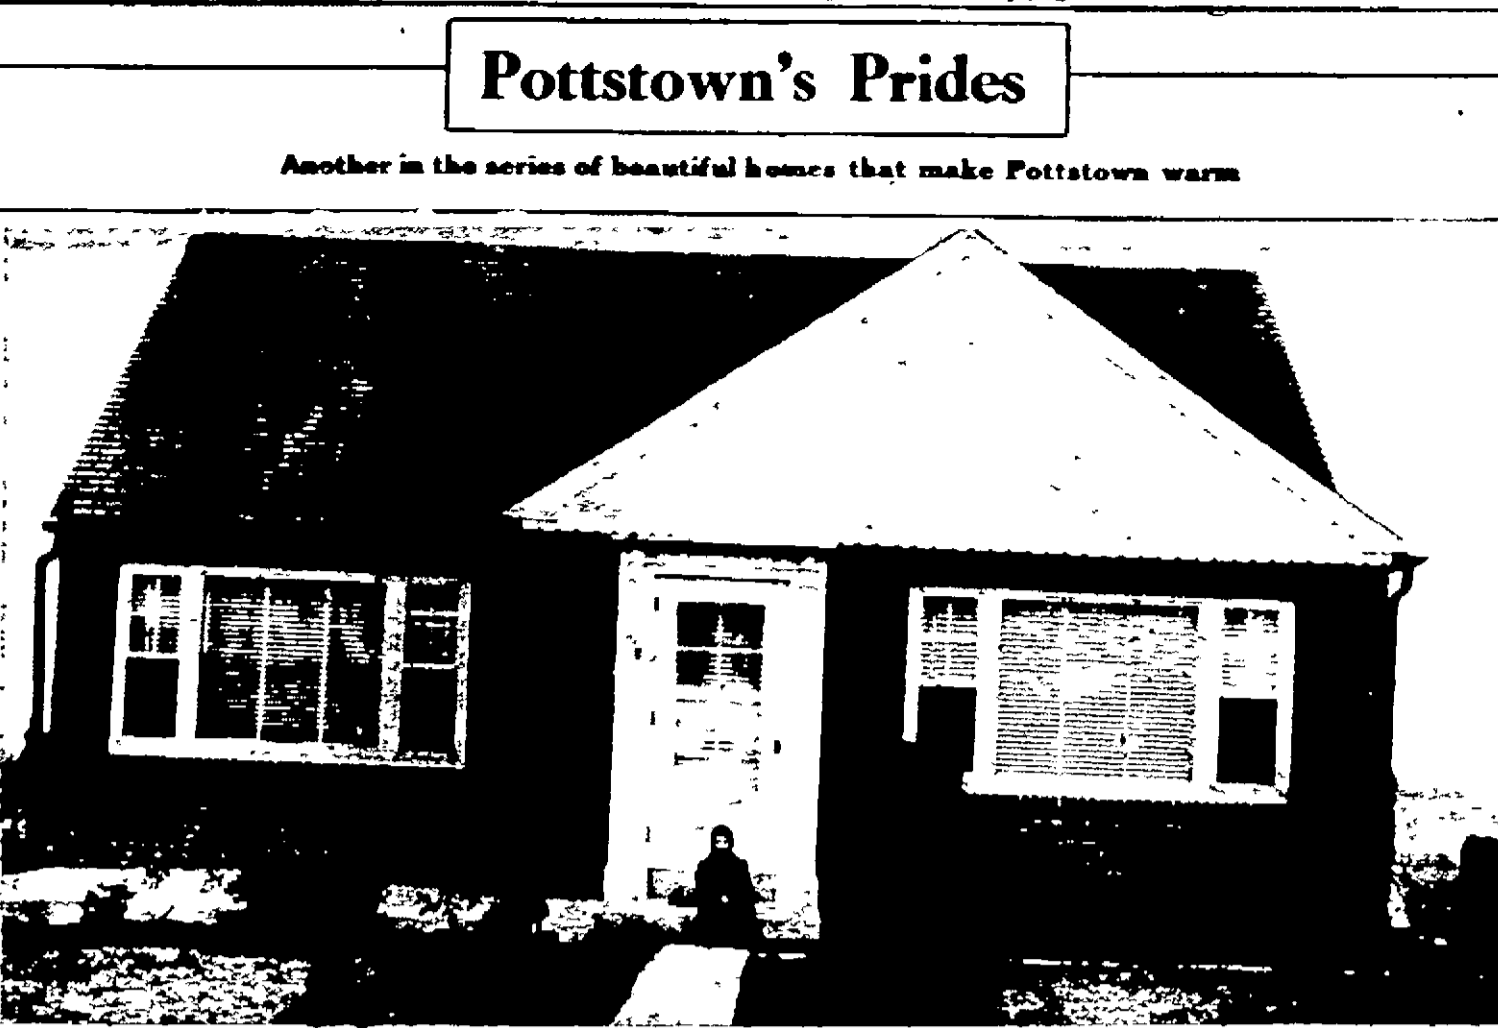

"The Soviets have agreed to use their good offices," department press officer Michael J. McDermott said, "to intercede with the North Koreans to see if these people can be released."

North Korean authorities claim they hold only seven of the Americans and do not know the whereabouts of the remaining six.

Most of the missing Americans are Roman Catholic (Marion Knoll) and Methodist missionaries.

AS PART OF its current peace offensive, Russia has helped arrange release of similar groups of British and French civilians held in North Korea or Communist China.

The seven that the Communists admit holding are William Robert Booth, a Methodist priest born in New York City, Louis Leo Dans, Chicago-born former State department employee at Pusan, Nello Arkansas-Dyer Methodist missionary born in Van Buren, Ark., Anders Christian Jensen, Danish-born Methodist missionary, Helen Rosser, Methodist missionary born in Macon, Ga., Bertha Adkisson Smith, Methodist missionary born in Marshall, Mo., and Lawrence A. Zellers, Methodist missionary born in Weatherford, Tex.

They also added the patio downstairs as the living room, kitchen with dinette, two bedrooms and bath. The young gentleman on the steps is their son, Danny. Like the house, he's 4 years old. Miller is employed by Philadelphia Dry Cleaners owned by his father, Maurice Miller.

House Sets Sights On Budget Slashes To Enact Sales Tax

HARRISBURG, April 10 (AP)—The House Republican caucus set its sights today on cutting the Commonwealth's proposed budget by $19,265,000 as part of a plan to enact a 2 percent sales tax.

The figure was made public by Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, who said he hoped the 109 member caucus will sell the idea of a sales tax to constituents back home.

But Rep. August Metz Jr. (R-Pike), a leading opponent of the sales tax, predicted it won't pass the 1953 Legislature. He said 25 Republicans are against the tax.

The budget cuts, recommended by the House Appropriations committee and already approved by the caucus, would require approval of both the full House and Senate before taking effect.

IF PASSED, the economies would reduce the need for new taxes from 157 millions to about 138 millions.

The budget cuts would wipe out completely at least five expenditure items.

Ammo in "Good Shape" Probers Hear, 2000 AWOLs Sent Ex-Civilian Leaders Get Roasting To Overseas Posts US Army Reports

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—In ammunition shortage the country can have no confidence of secure supply, the new Army secretary today told investigating Senators.

Robert T. Stevens, secretary since February, told the Senate subcommittee investigating the ammunition situation that while "it is clear in my mind there have been serious shortages" at the front lines in the past he now thinks

1. The situation "is currently in good shape."

2. The stockpile of reserve ammunition which was almost exhausted before new production started is beginning to improve.

3. THREE NEW plants now under construction to produce large caliber 155 millimeter shells will come into production six months ahead of schedule.

Stevens made no effort to challenge previous testimony by Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former Eighth Army commander, who reported that shortages existed during the 22 months he was in command. But Stevens did say that by the time Van Fleet left Korea early this year the ammunition stocks at the battlefield were adequate.

Although committee members praised Stevens' efforts since he took office, some of them were incisively critical of what had gone on before.

None of the AWOLs has been sent to Europe since the Army order was issued Jan. 8, a Sixth Army spokesman said.

The Army does not consider the overseas orders punishment for the AWOLs, but rather a deterrent to other soldiers inclined to shirk their duty, the spokesman said. He added that service wide reports show the plan is working.

He said the Sixth Army had been following the policy of sending AWOLs overseas for more than a year—many months before the Army-wide Jan. 8 order.

Hammarskjold Quotes Abe Lincoln, Takes Over Post as UN Chief Officer

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 10 (AP)—With quotations from Abraham Lincoln and a Swedish poet, Dag Hammarskjold of Sweden took over as Secretary-General of the United Nations today.

He was inducted into office as the second secretary general in the seven year UN history.

The former Swedish deputy foreign minister took the highest international post in the world as successor to Norwegian Trygve Lie. The Swede was sworn to the UN oath by Assembly President Lester B. Pearson of Canada.

Lie retired to a sideline seat in the packed assembly hall and listened as delegates delivered official greetings to the new secretary general pledged to help him in his difficulties ahead, and included for the most part words of tribute for Lie's part in building up the organization since early 1946.

BUT RUSSIA and France pointedly left out any tribute to Lie.

Russia's Andrei Vishinskiy, in one of the briefest statements of the ceremony, confined himself to voicing a greeting to the new executive.

It was Russia's embassy toward Lie, especially after the Korean war outbreak, that pushed the Norwegian into resigning from what he has called "the most impossible job in the world."

France's Henri Hoppenot split sharply with Lie on personnel policy recently.

His Administration is working as a team, the President said, and altogether "there has been a whole lot in the papers" about differences among Republicans these reports are just about as exaggerated as the report of Mark Twain's death was.

Hall took over the GOP national chairmanship from C. Wesley Roberts of Kansas, declaring

"OUR FIRST task is to man the lines for Ike in '54."

Later members of the committee visited the White House and met the President in the rose garden. He told them he was "delighted" at Hall's selection and pledged his complete loyalty and sincere cooperation.

The President brought applause from the gathering of about 100 party leaders when he promised to work hard as Chief Executive. If he fails anywhere along the line, he said, he hopes the leaders will get on the telephone and come to Washington and tell him "where I have gone sour."

New Drug Builds Cancer Cure Hopes

CHICAGO, April 10 (AP)—A drug made from blood is a hopeful prospect for giving cancers a sucker punch with X-rays.

It may act like a fifth column inside cancer cells, weakening their defense against X-rays. The rays would hit the cancers much harder, with less damage to healthy tissues which don't take in the drug.

Also, the drug may be a good messenger to carry radioactive atoms, piggy back style, right into cancers, to bathe them with atomic rays.

As yet these are just prospects, although human tests are under way.

THE BASIC studies so far and possibilities, were described today to the American Association for Cancer Research by Dr. Frank H. Figue, University of Maryland Medical school and Dr. Ralph Wichterle, Temple University, Philadelphia.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 10 (AP)—Ed Byrd admitted today that he was driving while drunk, but the judge couldn't convict him of it.

He was chauffeuring a horse and wagon when arrested, and the city's drunk driving ordinance applies only to motor vehicles.

Lanza

Schary estimated the frequent postponements have cost the studio $800,000.

He said Lanza had made demands not covered by his contract after the studio had given the singer his choice of starting dates April 13 or May 3 for the production. Schary gave this as the main reason for terminating Lanza's contract.

Lanza was not immediately available for comment.

Fire Officials Get Jail Terms

men as "almost indispensable." HE UNDERScored their testimony that they had received only $75 a year for their services as officers, and said that the machines were operated only occasionally, and only to enable the company to meet its expenses as a community service.

He said the defendants were among the few firemen in Pottstown "who answer every alarm and assist in other kinds of disasters."

He said their jailing would be a "great loss" to Borough Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer and "the people of Pottstown."

The attorney said the real blame for the presence of slot machines in the Good Will fire house should be laid on the doorstep of the borough council and the citizens of Pottstown for not providing sufficient funds to enable the company to operate without extra revenue such as that from gambling.

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY NICHOLAS H. LARZELERE said he was sympathetic with the position of the defendants. But, he added, "They must have known the attitude of the district attorney's office and the Court. They know what has happened in similar cases but they took their chances."

Judge Dannebauer preceded sentencing by saying that he, too, was sympathetic, and realized the three men "had done great work as volunteers."

The judge added, however, "But if we permit slot machines in the Good Will fire house we'll have to do the same thing with all other fire companies, and we find that slot machines encourage corruption."

FRYER THEN READ the story in The Mercury Thursday morning and reported to Fritz.

He has been charged with striking an unattended vehicle, a summary offense, and will be sent a summons. He is not expected to ask for a hearing.

Driver Reads of Act, Repents His Silence

A feeling of guilt overcame the motorist who struck a parked car after he read about his act in The Mercury.

Paul D. Fryer, Gilbertsville, reported to Robert R. Fritz, Gilbertsville RD 1, that he was the guilty driver who ran into Fritz's parked vehicle this past Wednesday.

Fritz told Troopers John R. Schneider and Harry Neiman of the Jeffersonville State police his car was parked on Swamp pike, near Dotterer road, when it was struck at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

St. Matthew's Plans To Mark Completion Of School Renovation

The newly renovated Sunday school quarters in St. Matthew's Lutheran church near Ludwig's Corner will be formally rededicated tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

At a cost of about $7000, the large room which is located on the first floor of the large brick structure was redecorated and classroom quarters were equipped with movable partitions. New lighting equipment has been installed.

The Rev. Ralph H. Casner is the church pastor and the Sunday school superintendent is Clyde Griffith.

The main speaker at the special service will be Dr. George Berkheiser, secretary of the Central Pennsylvania synod.

THE SENIOR CHOIR will sing "Bless This House," under direction of Mrs. Florence Mosteller Smiley, who is choir director and organist. The church choir will sing "In the Temple."

The building committee is as follows: James Shaw, Irma Koehel, Mrs. Ray Loomis, Mrs. Walter James, John Zollers, Harry Glassmyer and Ray Woodland. Ray Loomis is chairman of the finance committee.

sometimes even the chief of police have been corrupted by slot machines, and we have found sometimes that the men who open the devices keep part of the money for themselves, so the whole business is bad, and I cannot see my way clear to eliminate a prison sentence.

Roth, who like the other defendants, took the stand, testified that they have told the membership "Never again will the machines be set up under the present administration."

If the members want slot machines, the fire chief said that members were told: "We are going to resign."

Rhoads and Kilburn, who was company treasurer until nine days before the raid, joined Roth in explaining details of the high operating costs of the company, which maintains the only borough ambulance service as well as one of three fire company services.

THEY SAID they had been unable to raise enough money from borough subsidy and from voluntary contributions to meet these expenses.

Attorney Prince reviewed these figures in his plea and said that fire insurance rates in Pottstown are low "because of work by men like these."

Outlining the raid was Chief County Detective Albert Murphy, who led it. He said two machines were for quarters; one for dimes and three for nickels. All were confiscated.

Character witnesses for the defendants were Burgess William A. Griffith; John B. Hartenstein Jr., Republican candidate for burgess; and Fire Chief Lindauer.

The defendants' ages and addresses are: Rhoads, 39, of 986 North Hills boulevard; Roth, 49, Pottstown RD 1, and Kilburn, 31, 101 North York street.

The Rev. Michael R. Schmidt, pastor of East Vincent Reformed church, will hear a candidate for their pulpit speak tomorrow morning at the regular 9:15 o'clock service.

The trial sermon will be preached by the Rev. C. William Ebbert, pastor of Ebenezer Evangelical United Brethren, Weissport.

The Rev. Michael R. Schmidt, pastor of East Vincent Reformed church since the East Vincent-St. Paul's pastorate was separated into two charges.

Property has its duties as well as its rights.—Thomas Drummond.

Victory for the Free Press

"CONGRESS shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

So states the First Amendment to the Constitution.

This is the guarantee that we may say and print what we believe to be true, and that in addition we have the right to attempt to convert other people to our ideas—in other words, to influence public opinion.

Even so, a general statement of principle no matter how unequivocal is subject to interpretation when a specific instance is involved.

A case which was just decided by the Supreme Court—and which may have historic significance—is in point here.

In 1930, a House of Representatives committee conducted an investigation of lobbying.

Among the witnesses summoned was Dr. Edward A. Rumely, executive secretary of an organization known as the Committee for Constitutional Government. This organization had published and sold books which were extremely critical of New Deal philosophies, policies, and acts.

Dr. Rumely was ordered to disclose the names of people who had bought books to the value of $500 or more. He refused.

The House, by a narrow vote which generally followed partisan lines, cited him for contempt of Congress.

He was found guilty in a Federal District Court and sentenced to a $1000 fine and a six-months prison sentence, the latter being suspended.

Dr. Rumely appealed, and the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reversed his conviction, citing the First Amendment. The Government then took the case to the Supreme Court.

A short time ago this court of last resort held, by a 7 to 0 vote with two Justices not participating, that Dr. Rumely was not guilty, on the grounds that the resolution under which the lobbying committee acted did not empower an investigation into publishing activities.

But Justice Douglas, with Justice Black concurring, went much farther in a separate opinion. He dealt with the constitutional issue involved.

Here, in part, is what he said: "If the present inquiry were sanctioned the press would be subjected to harassment that in practical effect might be as serious as censorship . . . A requirement that a publisher disclose the identity of those who buy his books, pamphlets, or papers is indeed the beginning of surveillance of the press."

"The finger of government leveled against the press is ominous. Once the government can demand of a publisher the names of the purchasers of his publications, the free press as we know it disappears."

"Then the spectre of a government agent will look over the shoulder of everyone who reads. The purchase of a book or pamphlet today may result in a subpoena tomorrow."

"The books and pamphlets that are critical of the administration, that preach an unpopular policy in domestic or foreign affairs, that are in dispute in the orthodox school of thought will be suspect and subject to investigation."

"If the lady from Toledo can be required to disclose what she read yesterday and what she will read tomorrow, fear will take the place of freedom in the libraries, bookstores, and homes of the land. Through the harassment of hearings, investigations, reports, and subpoenas government will hold a club over speech and over the press."

Justice Douglas' opinion did not make many headlines.

But it may be remembered long after some of the best-publicized events of today are forgotten.

A Worthy Cause

POTTSTOWN residents are being asked to become members of the Salvation Army. A membership drive is necessary because the Salvation Army's funds were cut by the United Fund. Their wasn't the only cut. All charitable institutions took less than they asked for because the United Fund goal was not reached in its last campaign.

But the Salvation Army can't cut its overhead. Its charitable work. So it needs $13,000 or more. Every dollar contributed will help the local citadel maintain its high standard of service.

The appeal is worthy of your support. The Salvation Army is a beloved Pottstown institution. Its works are legion, its heart is large. Pottstown will suffer unless the quota is reached.

Dear Sir: 'A Brother:
Wal, for the sake of our soldiers fighting so valiantly on the Korean front, I hope the armistice becomes a reality very quickly. It couldn't happen to a better bunch of boys.

How can we have unity in the UN when we two delegates can give its new secretary's name—Hammarshkjeld—the same pronunciation?

And say: A Texas cat's diet consists of raw potatoes. This is one vegetarian movement every mouse is highly in favor of!

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir: 'A Brother:
Wal, for the sake of our soldiers fighting so valiantly on the Korean front, I hope the armistice becomes a reality very quickly. It couldn't happen to a better bunch of boys.

How can we have unity in the UN when we two delegates can give its new secretary's name—Hammarshkjeld—the same pronunciation?

And say: A Texas cat's diet consists of raw potatoes. This is one vegetarian movement every mouse is highly in favor of!

Disciple Restores Sight at Damascus, He Is Converted to The True Faith

The Golden Text

Conversion of Saul.

"I count all things to be loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord."—Philippians 3:8.

Scripture—Acts 7:58—8:3; 9:1-30; 22:1-21; Galatians 1:1; Philippians 3:4-6.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

NEXT WEEK—April 12-19—is National Sunday School Week, sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, Inc., the members of which "believe that the Sunday school is a great influence for good and that the training and inspiration which it gives to our boys and girls makes them better people and helps prepare for the responsibilities they will face as adults."

Today's lesson should give our young people something to think over because it tells of a fine, well-educated man who was obsessed by one idea—to destroy as quickly as possible some "upstarts" who were stirring people up with a new religion that threatened to supersede the old Jewish religion in which he had been carefully trained.

Converted to the new faith, however, he had the courage to espouse the cause with all the youthful enthusiasm he had shown before in fighting it, breaking with his old associates and fearlessly facing hatred, persecution and martyrdom.

We first see Paul watching impassively—if not with pleasure—the stoning of that splendid martyr, St. Stephen, whose face, at his trial, was "as it had been the face of an angel." He did not join in the stoning, but "Saul was consenting unto his death," and the maddened rabble laid down their clothes at his feet.

Then Saul, "breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord," went unto the high priests. He asked them for letters to the synagogue at Damascus, so that he might search out any Christians in that city—men or women—and bring them bound to Jerusalem.

On his journey to Damascus, coming near the city, "suddenly there shined around about him a light from heaven." Saul fell to the earth and he heard a voice saying, "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou Me?" "Who art Thou, Lord?" Saul asked, trembling and astonished, "What wilt Thou have me do?" And the answer was: "Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do." When Saul rose, he was blind, but his companions led him to the city where he was three days without sight, and neither ate nor drank.

In Damascus lived a disciple of Jesus named Ananias, and he saw the Lord in a vision. He was told to go into the street called Straight, and ask in a certain house for "one called Saul of Tarsus, for, behold, he prayeth."

Ananias had heard of this man who had made himself a terror to Christians, so he was a little

Paul's Conversion at Damascus

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

The first Christian martyr was Stephen whom the people cast out of Jerusalem and stoned to death. Saul, a young Pharisee, while throwing no stones himself, gave his consent to Stephen's death, and permitted those who killed him to lay their clothes at his feet.

But on persecuting Christians, Saul started for Damascus, but on the way a brilliant light blinded him so that he fell from his horse, and he saw Jesus who asked why Saul was persecuting Him? Saul's companions led him to Damascus, as Jesus had directed.

A certain disciple of Damascus, Ananias, was told by God to seek out Saul and to restore his sight. Ananias found Saul, put his hands on him, saying, "Brother Saul, the Lord Jesus hath sent me," and Saul's sight was immediately restored, and he stayed with the disciples.

In Jerusalem Saul was seized by Asiatie Jews who would have killed him, but a Roman captain saved him and took him to the castle. On the stairs Saul talked to his enemies, but they said, "Away with such a fellow."

STRENGTH FOR THIRTY DAYS
Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.—(Isaiah 1, 18.)
The Divine blessing of forgiveness—being forgiven of our sins once, and yet again and again—is wondrously available to each and all of us, if we but seek it with humility and sincerity, and in faith. It is the miracle on Earth that a man can change wholly and lastingly from sinfulness into goodness and, in the Lord, make his life a happy and useful one.

55-Voice College Choir to Sing in Emmanuel Church

Four From Area Are Among Group Attending Gettysburg

Emmanuel Lutheran church will be filled with "the melody of 55 voices blended as a great organ chord" on Monday night.

That is how listeners have described the music of the Gettysburg college choir, which will present a concert of sacred music in the church auditorium at 8:15 p. m.

Directed by Professor Parker B. Waguild, head of the college music department, the capella group includes four students from the Pottstown area.

JANE EVANS

They are Dale Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Meyer, 317 North Evans street; Jane Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jared M. Evans, 100 North York street; Audrey Rawlings, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Warren B. Rawlings, Limerick; and Larry D. Emlet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Emlet, Harleysville.

NOW IN its 15th year, the choir is appearing in Pottstown during a tour of the East that will include 24 concerts.

The group will sing in towns throughout Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey while on the tour.

During the past year the choir toured the Southeast, winning critical appreciation and ending its season by winning the Outstanding Merit award at the Cultural Olympics in Philadelphia.

Director Waguild, a native of Minnesota, once toured the province of Saskatchewan, Canada, as a member of a choral group of the academy he attended there.

In 1930 he toured Europe as a member of the famous St. Olaf College choir.

CONCERT SET—The Gettysburg college choir will present a concert of sacred music at Emmanuel Lutheran church Monday night. Directed by Parker B. Waguild, head of the college's music department, the ceremonies, are those who have been members for more than 50 years.

The latter group will include some who were received into the church as long as 65 years ago.

Dr. Krouse will speak to the "three groups on 'The Confirmation Vow,'" and Mrs. William S. Helver will direct the senior choir in the singing of special music.

Each confirmed member will receive a white carnation during the ceremonies, Dr. Krouse said.

Spring Formals Debut at Memorial Dance

Decorations went native at Memorial's Spring dance last night, but ballgoers lent a note of civilization in the newest of Spring formal wear.

PAUSING BETWEEN dances at Memorial auxiliary's Spring ball last night are, from left in the above picture, Mrs. Charles Gultanoff, Mrs. Walter F. Schwab, Mr. Schwab and Mr. Gultanoff. In the photo below, three Memorial Teen-Agers model their sarongs—designed to blend with the dance's tropic atmosphere. From left, they are Maria MacPhail, Gail Pollock and Joan Thompson. The dance was held in the country club.

Gowns tended to be shorter, from the new "short" formals to ballerina length, and their bright colors rivaled the "Tropic Island" decor of Brookside Country Club.

Possibly a record crowd thronged the ballroom to dance for the benefit of Memorial hospital. The hospital's women's auxiliary sponsored the affair.

Summery white net was chosen by Mrs. Jack Hoffman, whose bouffant gown featured a golden sash. She covered her strapless bodice with a net stole and wore golden accessories.

Mrs. Paul Atkins was attired in a gown of navy and white organdy of full-skirted cocktail length. She wore white jewelry.

Pale blue satin formed the bodice Mrs. Paul Ammon wore above a pleated, cocktail length net skirt. She danced in pale blue slippers and her jewels were pearls.

Mrs. Theodore Kemp wore a creamy beige frunk of bouffant net, its Grecian stole over one shoulder falling to the length of the skirt.

Green-leaved magnolias adorned her skirt, to match the cream colored satin slippers.

Sarni helps Mrs. Alex Berger adjust an earring. Both women wear the shorter gowns, which proved so popular at last evening's ball. The affair was sponsored by the auxiliary for the benefit of the hospital.

DESCENDING for a dance, Mrs. George Beiman pauses on the stairs for a photograph before joining her husband last night at Memorial hospital Auxiliary's annual Spring dance. "Tropic Island" was the theme of the ball, held in Brookside country club and palms, tropical fruits and even sarong-clad young girls. Proceeds will go to the hospital.

Dancegoers Do the Cocktail Circuit Before Heading Toward Tropical Island Festivities in Country Club

Spring Dance festivities got underway last night long before the orchestra's opening number.

From frivish on, hordes of ballgoers trekked from cocktail party to cocktail party, getting into the mood for the annual ball sponsored by Memorial hospital auxiliary in Brookside country club.

Among the hosts at pre-dance events were Dr. and Mrs. S. Russell Ash, Mr. and Mrs. George Lessig, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hoffman.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Storm Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boardman.

"Enchanted" Island" was the theme of the dance itself, and the country club was converted into a jungle isle filled with palms, coconuts, fruits and foliage.

Dancers entered over a gangplank from a pastboard luxury liner to waltz to the music of Jay Jerome and his orchestra.

Hawaiian leis were presented to each person attending, and a real lifeboat attracted the attention of the crowd.

Island dancers—in cardboard—swayed against the walls. And island dancers—in flesh and sarongs—circulated among the dancers. They were members of the hospital's teen-age auxiliary, present to help oversee the festivities.

General chairman for the dance was Mrs. George Berman. Mrs. Joseph Taggart was co-chairman.

Committee workers headed by Mrs. Edwin Smith designed the decor.

was a Harvey Berin original in champaign lace, completely covered with sequins, rhinestones and crystal drops.

She completed her outfit with a single-strand pearl necklace and drop earrings. Her slippers were satin.

Shining beneath the tropical light was Mrs. Stanley Wepser's iridescent blue nylon frock, fashioned with shimmering bodice and accented by rhinestone earrings and clips, black shoes.

Mrs. Harry Charles wore a ballerina frock of ice blue nylon with an off-shoulder neckline and silver slippers.

Rhinestones added glitter to rhinestone jewelry with her silk shoulders and a bow on her left side. She chose gold accessories.

Rhinestone jewelry complemented the rhinestones twinkling over Mrs. Robert MacPhail's white skirted champagne organza gown.

Lace topped the chocolate brown silk taffeta gown of Mrs. Richard Stamm. Her skirt was full pleated and she chose rhinestone jewelry.

Mrs. S. Russell Ash wore jewel studded slippers to her Grecian styled beige chiffon frock with its halter neckline. Pearls and rhinestones were her jewelry.

A single strand of pearls and earrings were chosen by Mrs. H. Ellis Jones to wear with her pale pink lace and net full length gown. A matching stole and slippers completed her outfit.

The stole attached to Mrs. John Anthony's black velvet ensemble length gown formed a square neckline at which white flowers centered with pearls appeared.

With her gown, Mrs. Anthony wore pearl jewelry and silver slippers.

Mrs. James Griffiths danced in a marquisette frock of Nile green trimmed with rhinestones and an attached cape. Rhinestone jewelry was her natural choice.

The popular halter neckline appeared again on the light blue moire gown of Mrs. Daniel Manger. She wore pink slippers and a pink tinted pearl choker and earrings to match.

Royal blue accented Mrs. William Boden Jr.'s ensemble from the stones in her drop earrings to the flowers on her natural cotton ballerina length dress.

Mrs. Harry K. March Jr. attended in a black velvet gown with rhinestones and sequins woven into the material. She chose silver slippers, a rhinestone choker and matching earrings to go with her dress.

Mrs. Caesar Sarni chose an Italian print of blue and green in ballerina length. With it, she wore green satin slippers and rhinestone jewelry.

A scalloped stole covered the shoulders of Mrs. Walter Schwab matching her gown of rose mauve lace. Her rhinestone jewelry echoed the rhinestones on her stole.

Mrs. Charles Gultano chose a French styled cotton in black and white stripes. A diagonal strap crossed over one shoulder.

Black accents on the gown included a velvet stole, belt and short gloves. She wore black sequin shoes and rhinestone jewelry.

A brocade overskirt highlighted the mist green nylon net gown of Mrs. Walter Smith. She used silver and rhinestone accessories.

Mrs. Anthony Dimaggio wore a hoop under her cotton lace skirt topped with an ivory satin bodice. Gold was her choice in accessories.

Marital Stages Depicted in JWL Meeting's Table Centerpieces

In Honor of the Guest Speaker on Marriage, Rabbi Leon Lang

Marriage moods were cast by table decorator Mrs. Harry Hoffman at the Jewish Women's league meeting Wednesday night in the vestry room of Mercy and Truth synagog.

Three table centerpieces depicted different stages of marital life in connection with Rabbi Leon Lang's talk on present day marriage problems.

On a raised platform at the first table, Mrs. Hoffman placed an entire wedding party in miniature on a tiny stairway leading from the bay-

WCTU Hears Moderation Called Worse Than Drunkenness

"Moderation is a greater menace than drunkenness," Mrs. W. F. Pray, and devotion were led by Maloney told WCTU members Anna Nagle with the theme "We Build Our Altar" including prayer poetry and hymns.

President Laura R. Ecker read the Cantic of Solomon (chapter 2) and stressed its reference to Spring. She told her fellow members "The WCTU is an organization of character builders in co-operation with the home, church and school."

Mrs. Douglas Ottinger accompanied by her daughter Connie sang "Alone With God."

Mary Eschbach spoke for the five delegates to the temperance convention to hold this type of field day in Harrisburg the past week, attended by Governor Fine, 12 cabinet members and 20 legislators.

Largest group represented was the WCTU, she said and quoted the union's State president Emma O. Leonard who commented, "Pennsylvania is the only state in the union to hold this type of field day."

Members voted at the Thursday session to contribute fruit pieces to the servicemen in Korea.

Spring flowers decorating the rooms were from the gardens of Mrs. Maloney and Miss Nagle.

Next meeting will be at 2 p. m. May 14 in Baltzell EUB church.

Entomologist Says Time for Spraying Spittle Bugs Is Now

According to Dr. Henry Mennan, extension entomologist, the ideal time to spray hay fields for spittle bug control in Chester county is between the dates of April 10 and April 20.

The spittle bugs have now developed sufficiently, especially on southern slopes, to begin spraying operations.

Spray alfalfa fields first and then clover fields. Be sure to spray first year seedlings, since spittle bugs usually cause heaviest damage to new seedlings. Hay mixtures which are predominantly grass will not be damaged as seriously by spittle bugs as the legumes.

AN EXTRA but unscheduled attraction was provided visitors to the Paris Agricultural exposition when this colt was born while his mother was lying in the best utility horse contest.

USE ONE QUART of 50 percent toxaphene or one quart of 10 percent benzene hexachloride emulsion per acre. Two quarts of 25 percent methoxychlor emulsion is also suitable. Dusts can also be used.

All spraying and dusting should be completed before the new growth is more than seven inches in height to avoid a residue on the hay.

Do not pasture treated fields until at least three weeks have elapsed from the time of spraying or dusting to avoid a residue problem.

More complete information can be obtained by contacting the County Agent's office.

Angus Breeders Set Demonstration Plans

A demonstration and field day for Aberdeen Angus cattle will be held next Saturday at the "Brookside Farm" of Dr. J. Montgomery Deaver, 44 mile south of Broad Ave. on Skipack pike, route 73.

Sponsored by the Brandywine Angus Breeders' association, all Angus owners, as well as farmers, dairymen and cattle feeders, are invited to attend.

Beginning at 1:00 p.m. and until 5:00, an instructive program will be carried on continuously, consisting of talks and the actual judging of Angus cattle, as well as demonstrations of such practices as foot trimming, head and tail clipping, tattooing, washing and dressing.

Scott L. French, secretary and fieldman of the Pennsylvania Aberdeen Angus association, stated: "This demonstration and actual instruction will be of interest to the many farmers, dairymen and feeders who have been thinking about starting a beef breeding herd."

Planters Told Seed Can Spoil in Storage

HARRISBURG, April 10—Caution to farmers and seedsmen to examine carefully all certified seed they plan to use this spring has been issued by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Should any farm or garden seeds appear to be inferior in quality or not measure up to the analysis shown on the official certification tag attached to the original bag or other container, the grower may save possible losses if he notifies the bureau at once.

C. F. Campbell, in charge of State seed certification, says that storage and other conditions may cause seed to deteriorate.

If any seed is questionable as to quality, he urges growers to save several unopened bags with tags attached so that bureau agents may make a thorough inspection.

Good seed is the first essential for a good crop, he declares.

EVERYTHING FOR THE GARDEN

Gardening this Week

By KATE PERKINS

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y., April 10 — The daffodils are spilling their golden beauty all over the garden—and more to come—and in the rock garden are the iris, reticulata and the scilla. And the chickweed is also in bloom.

The week-end was warm and made for knocking gardeners out with work. I transplanted three hybrid tea roses from one garden bed where they hadn't done too well to join their sisters in another bed—roses grow best in special rose gardens and don't take kindly to other competition.

I gave their new sites a fine preparation, including fertilizing, deep digging and careful planting so that the roots had plenty of room. I pruned out some damaged roots and trimmed them up generally, cutting out compensating portions of the bush above the ground.

I also transplanted a number of chrysanthemums into the perennial border. They appreciate being separated and set into refurbished beds about every three years, and I turned my favorite plant—a wonderful deep red—into three, for fiery Fall coloring set against white mums.

The trellises are spic and span with fresh coats of white paint, although the rose climbers on two of them look as though they had broken out with a strange white disease, contracted from my enthusiastic paint brush.

I pruned my clematis paniculata—which has wonderful tiny blooms in profusion in the Fall, and such a lovely odor—back to within a foot of the soil. It's good for the vine and it sure made painting easier.

This is a good time to do a fussy weeding job among the iris. The new stalks are tiny enough so hand weeding is possible, but the older new shoots must be avoided because they are as brittle as the tops of bulbs and break off easily when casually brushed.

Personally, I'm no lover of either begonia or lily culture. For them as admire either, there's work to be done. Tuberous-rooted begonias can be started indoors now—light, sandy, rich soil and with the tuber barely below its surface—and don't give them too much light until they've started. Many of the lilies can go into the garden now.

Without knowing the approximate number of trees in the State, it has been difficult for crop estimators to give accurate figures on expected production.

County Orchardists Are Aiding in Survey

Montgomery county orchardists are co-operating in a fruit tree survey which is expected to give much-needed information for the whole State, says R. G. Waltz, county agent.

Impetus for the survey came in a resolution at the recent annual meetings of the State Horticultural association.

Need for the survey has come with changing tree situations. Some orchards have been abandoned, and many farm orchards have gone out of production.

Assisting in the survey are the Department of Agriculture and the Agricultural Extension service of Pennsylvania State college which includes the county agents.

Without knowing the approximate number of trees in the State, it has been difficult for crop estimators to give accurate figures on expected production.

DEALER GROUPS ARE AGAINST SENATE BILL

Proposals Would Transfer Milk Control Duties To Agriculture

HARRISBURG, April 10 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst and Farmer and Milk Dealer organizations today voiced opposition to abolition of the Milk Control commission.

Testifying before a Senate committee on transfer of its duties to the Agricultural department, Horst said:

"From our knowledge of the functions and operations of the Milk Control commission, we cannot see any material savings in the consolidation of the functions of the two agencies."

Horst said the commission "should be maintained as a separate administration commission."

THE DEPARTMENT HEAD appeared before the Senate Rules committee at a hearing on a bill to do away with the commission.

The Senate bill was introduced on the basis of a Chesterman State Government study committee recommendation that $53,900 a biennium could be saved by transferring commission duties to the Agriculture department.

Both E. Lowery Humes, Meadville, representing seven farm organizations, and Willis F. Daniels, counsel for the Pennsylvania Association of Milk-Dealers, denied any saving would result.

Speaking for the milk dealers, Daniels told the committee, "We conclude that since the milk control commission has performed its functions in a manner which properly serves the consumer, the producer and the dealer, and since it has been found that these functions have been performed efficiently, no purpose would be served by making any change."

Tree Identification Important for Care

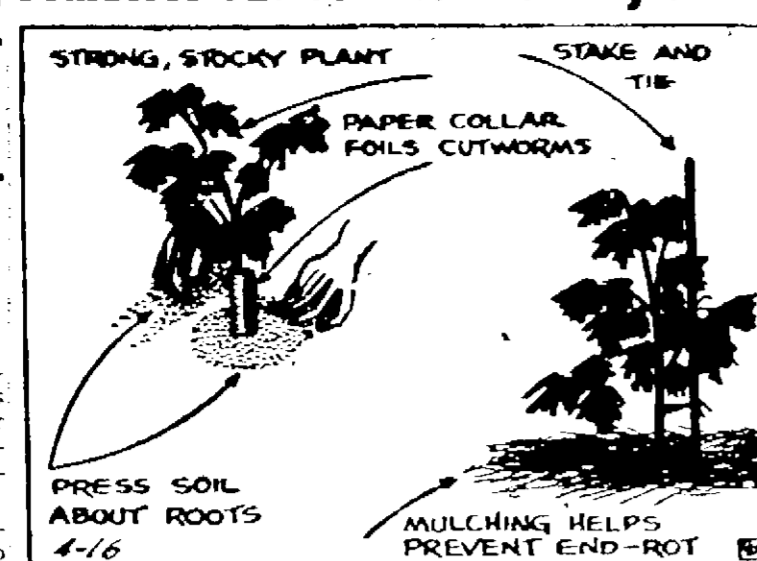

Most home owners, who can call off the names of every flower in their gardens, rarely know the kinds of trees adorning their landscape.

The home owner needn't be a botanist or a specialist to pick up a working knowledge of the subject. The same methods employed for remembering people will help frequently to fix the tree name in mind.

At times, these differences are so marked a tree can be identified solely by its buds. Another will be recognized by its bark.

Then again fragrance, taste, color, form all serve to identify trees. The delightful fragrance of the sassafras tree, for instance,

Tomatoes Thrive in Almost Any Soil

Tomatoes give the most in return for space and effort in the home vegetable garden. Therefore, many gardeners grow them in a big way even though their garden space is limited.

There is also a neighborhood rivalry over early harvests. Home gardeners, however, should not be too impatient. It is best to wait until all danger of frost is past before setting out tomato plants. Better still, wait until the weather is warm.

Tomatoes will grow and thrive in almost any soil that is well cultivated. They want ample moisture.

The best crops of tomatoes come from the use of generous amounts of manure or commercial fertilizer. They are sun-loving plants and should be planted in an open, unshaded area.

Tomatoes, like most other vegetables, will produce better crops if given a little extra care, especially when they are being transplanted.

Protect the young plants against cutworms by placing a paper collar around each one, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. The collar should extend two inches above and below ground.

To help young tomato plants recover from the shock of transplanting use a starter or transplanting solution which can be purchased at seed or hardware store.

You can also mix your own, using a complete, balanced plant food and following directions given on the package. When transplanting pour one cupful of the solution around the roots of each plant before covering with soil.

Mulching tomato plants, as illustrated, helps to prevent blight.

PAINT BRUSH CARE
It is not necessary to clean a paint brush thoroughly when putting it aside overnight or for a few days if you wrap the bristles in wax paper and seal the edges with masking tape to keep the air out. The paint in the bristles will then remain soft.

FOR CHALKY PLASTER
When an old plastered wall becomes so chalky that it is difficult to make wallpaper stick to it, a coat of shellac, which dries quickly, solves the problem and allows the wallpaper to be applied in the usual way.

FLAT PAINT RADIATES
When painting radiators or exposed hot water or steam risers, used partly for heat in bathrooms, you can get more heat through flat paint than through a glossy surface coating. Metallic finishes, such as gilt or aluminum paint, transmit the least heat.

Seeds Should Be Sown in 'Flat' Box

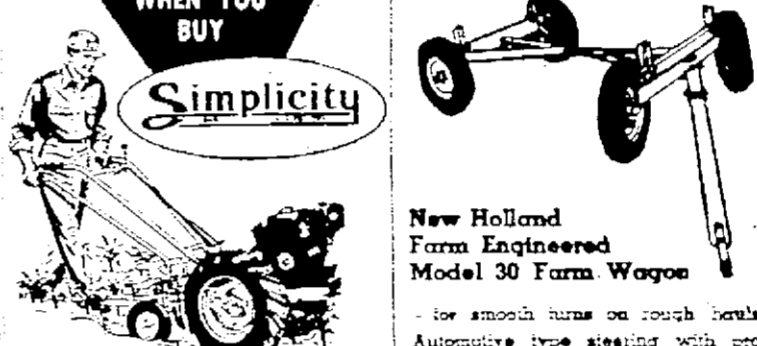

Among numerous meanings for the plants, and not too large which the word "flat" has as a heavy for the planter to handle, ranging from an apartment die. Standard sizes range from a piece of stage scenery, 14x21 1/2 inches, 2 inches, to 15x24 signifies to the gardener a shallow box in which seed is sown, usually for growing in the house, in a cold-frame or hotbed.

This simple device has been used for more than a century without anyone being able to improve it.

The modern form comes knock-down and is easily put together with a few nails. It is a standard item in the garden trade.

-TAGGIN' ALONG- RISING SPORTS STARS BLOOM EARLY THIS YEAR

Rain in the Springtime does more for Chlorophyll than a tooth-paste salesman, but for blossoming young athletes April dew can be accused of stunting their growth.

Between the raindrops this past week, the sun peeked through just enough to allow us to grab a preview of what to expect the next few months in the way of sports.

The stars of Fall and Winter games have traded in their leas for either track scanties or baseball flannels. Many of the such as Dave Ricketts, Mike Kriczy, Howie Bedell, Ron Downie and Jack Reibel continue to excel just as they did in football or basketball.

But Spring is the season of birth, and along with the old stand-bys, a new crop of names pops up. Some of the unheard-of have already established themselves as potent forces in molding Pottstown High's record in the April and May sports.

Walt Fillman has made the most comet-like rise after a youth of comparative athletic obscurity. Although no older than a good many Sophomores — he had his 16th birthday only a few months ago — Fillman will graduate in June.

ENDOWED WITH natural talent for running, young Walter caked-walked to three victories in the Trojan's first track meet against Shillington. This is the first year he has been out for track, but Coach Heeb Myers regards him as his best man in several events.

The track was heavy Wednesday after two days of steady rain. But as Myers stated:

"The muddy footing didn't hurt Fillman much. He's what we call a floater."

Actually this doesn't mean Walt never touches the ground, although it must be said his feet don't stay in one place for any length of time. The term is aptly applied, however, because the youngster's sprinting form is satin smooth.

Not the same can be said for his hurdling technique. It seemed about half of the 15.4 seconds it took him to complete the 120-yard distance was spent hanging in the air over the various obstacles.

No danger of knocking down the hurdles, not with the six to eight inch clearance he was giving them. But without any previous hurdling experience, he has already covered the course in 15 seconds flat. It will be interesting to watch his development during the season.

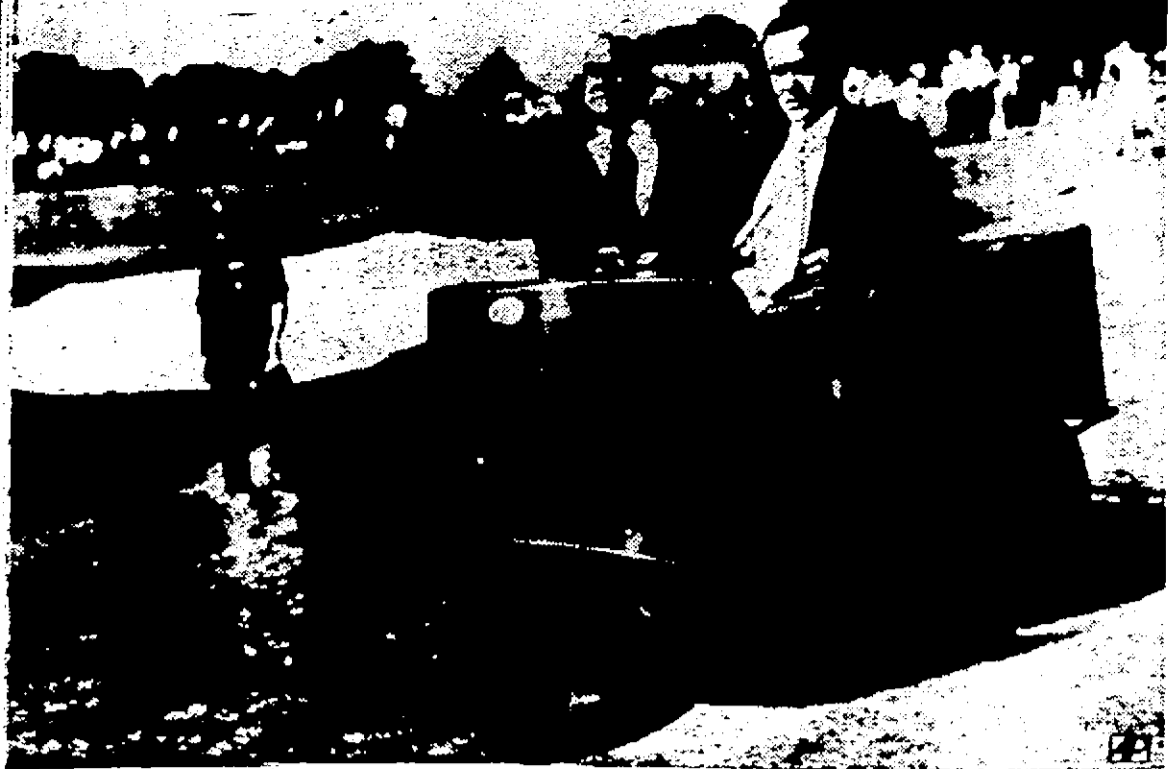

ANOTHER SENIOR who was just another scholar until recently is Bill Drauschak. An ineptitude ruling left this fine diamond prospect on the sidelines as a Junior the past season. Now he rates as Coach Ed Good's general handy man who will fill in several gaps before the Spring is over.

At present he is an outfielder, but when Ricketts moves to the mound on some future occasion, Drauschak will go behind the bat. Good said recently, "Probably we have the two best receivers in the Chest-Mont League," meaning Ricketts and Drauschak.

Against Phoenixville on Thursday, Bill clouted two drives that would have been cinch home runs on a dry field. His liner between the right and center fielders would have rolled farther had the grass not been so damp. As it was many observers thought he could have made the circuit, but third base coach Doug Moser said Bill looked tired as he approached the hot corner.

"If I would have sent him home and he got caught I'd be wrong too, so what are you going to do," said Moser in his own defense.

HILL SCHOOL GOLF TEAM PLAYS HAVERFORD

Hill golf coach Francis Armstrong, having lost two-thirds of a golf team by graduation, will send his 1953 edition of The Hill school link smiths into their inaugural tilt today at Brookside Country club, versus Haverford school at 2 p. m.

At least, that's what it says here in relation to playing the match. The BCC course was closed yesterday by the greens committee and another rain early today would be almost sure to cause a postponement.

There's an arguing with the script, however, when it comes to those four departed '52 regulars. Gone are Dick Clark, team captain and No. 1 player the past year; John Downie, Jim Steinmetz and Ben Day.

George Dunlap and Fin McRae — both Sixth formers — remain from the squad that hung up an impressive 5-2 won-lost mark, and will each move up a notch from their Nos. 2 and 3 rankings of the past campaign.

Dunlap, as leadoff man, is the team captain and will be out to lead his club to another win to pair with the '52 team's 9-0 decision over the 'Fords.

NEW BOY Jim Rowley, a Fifth former, grabbed himself the No. 3 spot in a hurry in the team's few practice sessions since the boys returned from Spring vacation Wednesday. One of the major reasons for Rowley's quick ascent to a high-ranking varsity post was that he played golf nearly every day at his home in the South.

Dunlap and McRae, also native Dixie residents, are in equally fine playing shape after sharpening up considerably over the layoff.

Former jayvees Sam Hunter and Don Merklebach will slash at Nos. 4 and 5, respectively, for the Blues today in bids to keep permanent varsity spots after appearing in a few matches with the big boys the past campaign. Hunter is a Sixth former while Merklebach is the first sextet's lone Fifth former outside of Rowley.

Sixth former Bruce DeSchryver, runnerup in the school championship tourney in which he defeated Clark the past year, is today's No. 6 man. He also played with the Blue Seconds in '52.

Three former jayvee combatants and a pair of comparative newcomers are also making bids for berths on the eight-man varsity squad.

Fifth former Hen Stoeber and Sixth formers Drummond King and Dave Ralston all have looked impressive in drills this past week, along with local boy Bob Bittling, a Sixth former, and Fifth former Charley Kindt.

BITTING DIDN'T PLAY the past year although he attended the Hill. Kindt is entirely new to the Blue sports scene and looked "very good" in practice rounds thus far.

PERK GAMES RAINED OUT

All three rescheduled games in the Perkiomen-Schuylkill baseball circuit went by the boards for the second time yesterday as rain and wet grounds made every local diamond a vast collection of mud puddles.

None of the three games, originally listed for the past Monday, has been definitely rescheduled for any particular date. North Coventry's game at Royersford will likely be made up in a double header later this season, and host Spring City has tentatively set their tilt with Schuylkill for next Friday, while Upper Perkiomen at West Pottsgrove might go on next Saturday.

Confirmation on both the latter dates is still pending. League play resumes Monday with a four game card.

Knauers Work Out

The Knauertown baseball club will drill today and tomorrow at 2 p. m. on the Warwick High school field, manager Paul Miller announced last night.

Any teams desiring games with the K-towners should contact Miller at telephone Morgantown 6-4277 after 5-30 p. m. Games can be arranged on either a home or away basis.

'Derby' Returns to Sanatoga

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 the Sanatoga Speedway will come to life to the Roar of powerful racing motors and the scream of tortured tires as the iron men of speed and daring once again tempt fate in pursuit of the almighty dollar.

For the first time this year George Marshman will present his internationally known Destruction Derby with many improvements over last year. There will be four cars to start this sensational event, two teams of two cars each. They will proceed to rip each other's cars apart until all cars are demolished but one. He is the winner.

There are no rules, anything goes. This is the roughest and most dangerous form of motorized competition man ever devised. This is the world's biggest producer of thrills and heart stopping action.

The racing program will consist of four qualifying heats, two semi-finals, a consolation and a thirty lap feature, totaling more than one hundred twenty laps of fast and furious action on this slick asphalt speedway. More than 50 cars and drivers of the All Stars Stock Car Racing club will be there to slug it out with their fast racing stocks on per square foot of race track the game has ever known.

THE MAN to beat this Sunday is Mose Moore, who was beaten last week by his brother Harry when the latter won the feature.

Other positive threats are Bill Ellis and Jim Ryan, both of whom broke axles in the feature event last Sunday after zooming their way into contending positions and having Lady Luck turn her back on them.

Other men capable of winning are Dick Rodenberger, Monk Kellar, Charley Kelly, Stan Fink, Red Leshner, Curt Sherman, Newt Reinert, Charley Cregar, Rocky Ewing and over forty more.

Sanatoga Speedway is proud of the many improvements made during the Winter: a new slightly banked track for more speed, a new racing surface for more traction, new heavy duty crash fences, new comfort facilities and a general cleaning and painting of the entire racing plant.

Lakers Beat Knicks To Win NBA Crown

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—The Minneapolis Lakers two-platooned Brown, Brook and Rainbow trout. New York for a 20-point lead, then held off a frantic Knickerbocker rally for a 91-84 victory tonight to win their fourth National Basketball association championship in the past five years.

After the Minneapolis second-stringers built up a 14-35 halftime lead, the first team came back in and increased the margin to 55-35. The Knickerbockers, who bowed to the same team in seven games in the NBA finals last year, tried mightily after that and put the crowd in a frenzy by pulling to within one point at 85-84 with 35 seconds to play.

The Lakers weren't going to let the title they've won in 1949, 1950 and 1952 slip out of their grasp, however, and the big, rangy champions steadied down to pull away again in the closing seconds.

George Mikan, big gun of the Lakers in all their championship drives, scored only 15 points—far below his normal average—but three came at the end on a three point play under the basket. That made it 89-84, and the last basket by Pep Saul was merely icing on the cake.

Meet Postponed

The Pottstown High track meet with Downingtown yesterday afternoon was postponed until Monday afternoon because the Franklin field track was too wet.

Banner Season Predicted for State's Trout Fishermen

HARRISBURG, April 10 (AP)—The State Fish commission proudly predicted today "best prospects ever" in advance of Wednesday's opening of Pennsylvania's 107-day trout season.

"Of course, we have no control over the water or the weather but if both are favorable we could have the finest trout season ever," said Charles A. French, the commission's executive director.

He backed up his prediction by pointing to the State's largest stocking program and an expected record in the sale of fishing licenses.

The season opens at 5 a. m. Wednesday, and extends through July 31. Fishing is legal 24 hours a day, every day. None of the regulations have been changed from last year.

Meanwhile, the commission set the dates for the famed Fisherman's Paradise project on Spring Creek near Bellefonte in Centre county. That one-mile stretch of water, especially stocked with Brown, Brook and Rainbow trout, will open on Friday, May 15 and held off a frantic Knickerbocker rally for a 91-84 victory tonight to win their fourth National Basketball association championship in the past five years.

After the Minneapolis second-stringers built up a 14-35 halftime lead, the first team came back in and increased the margin to 55-35. Ben Hogan Leads Masters Tourney With 139

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 10 (AP)—Ben Hogan, the grim little golfer who once had a Masters tournament dedicated to him, took charge of testing course in the red clay hills of Augusta today as he shot his way into the lead at the 36-hole mark.

Hogan, followed by a tremendous week-day gallery of 8,000, put a round of 69 on top of yesterday's and looked his drive a country mile into the rough and didn't quite sink the long putt which could have tied him for the lead.

Harbert, who set the pace with a 68 yesterday, came through with an ordinary 73 today to share third place with Kroll, a hard-bitten little Army veteran who had rounds of 71 and 70.

Sandy Halts Beau in 8th on TKO

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Sandy, 22-year-old New York midweight stopped Jimmy Beau, New Canaan, Conn., on a technical knockout tonight in 2:03 of the eighth round because of a cut over Beau's right eye. Beau weighed 161, Sandy 153½.

Referee Petey Scalzo stepped between the two boys in the eighth after Dr. Vincent Nardiello had visited Beau's corner four times to examine the cut.

All three officials had Sandy, a 15 to 5 favorite, way out front in the nationally televised bout at St. Nicholas Arena.

HAMILTON, who started out playing just for fun after a Winter of inaction, became deadly serious when he found he was in the running for the big prize. After a 71 yesterday, he also had a 32 on the front nine and was even with Hogan after 11 holes today.

In the stretch, however, big cigar-chewing Bob bogged down a bit. He went over par on the 12th and 14th holes but birdied the 15th. He three-putted the 16th when a par would have put him even and on the final hole he

Norristown Loses In Biddy Tourney

SCRANTON, April 10 (AP)—Two free throws in the last minute of play by little Gary DuBois clinched a 57-54 win for Peoria, Ill., tonight to give the Mid-Westerners the world's Biddy Basketball championship over Norristown.

Norristown, trailing 44-36 at the end of the third period pulled to within a single point of Peoria at 55-54 with 55 seconds left to play. But their overzealous guarding as Peoria froze the ball brought on the fouls and their conversion.

After the game DuBois was picked as the outstanding player in the tournament by a board of coaches.

The game is for youngsters up to 12 years of age and is played on a reduced-size court with a light ball and lower baskets.

Jim Ellis of the Norristown five won the night's scoring honors with 18 points while Joe Heyler paced the Peoria team with 17.

Marino Defeated

POCATELLO, Idaho, April 10 (AP)—Fighters from opposite ends of the country battled their way into the title round of the NCAA boxing tournament with semi-final victories tonight.

Little Vic Kobe of Idaho State, 119 pounder, grabbed a split decision over Penn State's Sammy Marino to take one final spot in his weight class. He will tangle with Gary Garber from Maryland who was too fast for Al Accurso of San Jose State.

defense against the second guessers.

Drauschak was very nearly the victim of an unpleasant situation when he dropped a fly in the fifth inning. He made a great diving attempt to spear the fast-dropping ball, but it popped out of his glove as he hit the ground.

Unfortunately Kriebitzky had not allowed a hit up to that point, but after his all-out effort, Drauschak did not deserve an error and the first Phoenix safety was marked down.

On the very next pitch the second hit went sailing over first baseman Josh Sova's head. That automatically cleared Bill's good name. He fielded the ball cleanly and rifled a throw to third base that prevented the first Phantom runner from advancing past the Keystone.

DRAUSCHAK'S other triple would have been a bonafide homer on a drier Franklin field. The right hander slugger put strong wrist action into play as he belted the ball far over the right fielder's head. The ball came to almost a dead halt as it landed in the soft turf just a few feet shy of the asphalt.

Ron Cheney is another young athlete that has been left standing in the wings for the most part. That is until the baseball season started and now he ranks as the hub of the Trojan inner defense. This young shortstop has not flashed any game-stopping plays in the first two contests, but any fan can tell the boy has what it takes.

His appearances with the basketball team were usually brief—he was Dave Ricketts' replacement. That was like being reserve first baseman for the Yankees during Lou Gehrig's time.

Buffy Schoenly has been the scene stealer among Bill McCabe's golfing forces. As a Sophomore he has moved into the No. 3 slot on the five-man team. As the season moves along Schoenly should chop a few strokes off his game making him a high 80 shooter.

Although on the short side and not very stocky nature, Schoenly gets good club speed into his drives and long iron shots. He is still erratic on the greens and that is where he can do the most to improve his game.

A few months of pressure competition will tell the complete story of these budding stars.

Katt's Homer Defeats Tribe for Giants; Reds Win

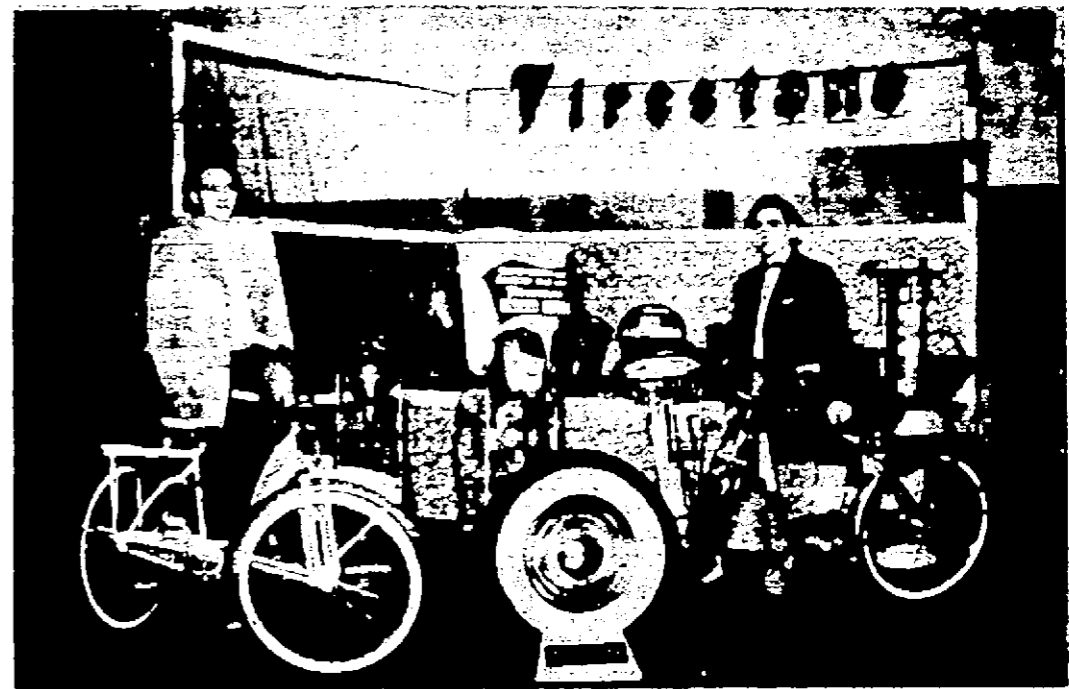

LYNCHBURG, Va., April 10 (AP)—Rookie Ray Katt's three-run homer in the eighth inning gave the New York Giants a come-from-behind 9-7 victory over the Cleveland Indians in a slugfest today.

The Indians first baseman drove in six runs with two homers and a single.

Cleveland's Bob Lemon pitched the first seven innings and when the catcher smashed one of his curves over runs. Brissie was the loser. Sal pitcher Billy Hoelt as the Reds the right field fence. Two Men Are Jailed After Punch Duel on Local Street Corner

Two Pottstown men were confined to the borough lock-up last night after a fist fight at Washington and Water streets involving several persons.

The first to be arrested were Robert Hamilton, 27, of 317 Grant street. He was picked up at 10:50 p. m. by Motor Patrolman Paul I. Galloway and Patrolman William A. Mars at the corner where the melee took place.

Mrs. Lillian Henley, 643 Lincoln avenue, obtained a warrant for his arrest on a charge of assault and battery from Seventh Ward Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus.

James Henley, 29, husband of Mrs. Henley, was arrested by Galloway and Mars at Washington and Water streets at 11:33 p. m.

GUARDS COAST—Gene L. Michaels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Michaels, 1033 Schuylkill road, is in service with the US Coast Guard at Gloucester, N. J. A graduate of Moyersford High school with the class of 1950, he took his "boon" training at Cape May, N. J. He enlisted Dec. 20.

by the hearings, are as follows, he said:

THE POLICIES, procedures and administration of the National Labor Relations board; compulsory union membership; secondary boycotts; national emergency strikes and non-Communist affidavits.

McConnell saved most of his own opinions for the national emergency topic.

He said that the present law which maintains production of the needed commodity for 80 days "only makes an attempt to protect the public health and safety."

"I would make sure the president could move quickly to protect the public interest, including such procedures as the possible use of an injunction if either or both parties failed to co-operate in maintaining continued production."

He said he would also give the president the right to request special legislation.

ABOUT THE PRESENT law he said, "the manner in which the various processes are spelled out discourages any real bargaining. Everyone knows what will happen next and they don't begin to bargain until the 80-day wait is just about over."

McConnell would eliminate any stereotyped procedure. He wants both parties under "the urgent compulsion of uncertainty."

The US Representative also had something to say about the Communist affidavits used under the Taft-Hartley law.

The affidavits were introduced in 1947 to help unions rid themselves of Communists who had managed to take over leadership of some important unions.

"It has helped in a good many cases," he said, "but there are still Communist dominated unions which are strong and active."

He said the approach which seemed to be developing is the idea of using some special board to decide the question of Communist domination.

"Something along the line of the Subversive Activities Control board."

"Once the finding of domination was made, we would work out procedures to encourage unions to clean the Communists out."

GETS FAREWELL FETE

MUNICH, Germany, April 10 (AP)—Charles W. Thayer, author and Soviet expert who resigned as US consul general here, was given a farewell reception tonight by Bavaria's minister-president, Hans Ehard.

COULD YOU EASILY BE FOOLED?

Searching for a "bargain" diamond is dangerous. A young man buying his first diamond is easily confused as to what constitutes value. He forgets to wonder why he alone should be so "fortunate."

HAVE YOU QUESTIONS TO ASK?

Have you wondered why some diamonds are more brilliant than others... or how much difference in the value of a diamond does cutting and color make? Maybe you're confused by the terms "perfect" and "flawless."

Little Effect Seen on Output

be followed by a slump in general business conditions.

Paul Mitchell, vice president of Neapco, said the plant has three US contracts of significant size, but only one that probably would be affected by a sudden cutback in the military program.

If this contract was cut off, he said, only about eight workers would be affected. If all three defense jobs ended—a highly unlikely possibility—only 25 to 25 men would be affected, Mitchell asserted.

"Summing it up from my own standpoint," Mitchell said, "it would have little effect on us."

E. T. HANDLEY, plant manager for Firestone, said, "It would have is our own product pipe fittings, practically no effect on us, so it involves no changeover one way or another."

Second, the Doehler plant is facing the periodic upswing of the late Spring and Summer months, when production is up, and when more manpower is needed to replace the 10 percent reduction caused by vacations.

At Bethlehem Steel, where the chief work is fabricating girders for use in civilian bridges, H. Lewis Williams, works manager, declined to estimate what the long-range effect of a cutback would be. He did, however, point out that no adverse effects are in sight now.

HOWARD W. Bartholomew, Doehler's plant manager, said that if the Korean war ended, "We believe that there would be a very gradual tapering off. The impact would be a very gradual one—over a year and a half or so. I doubt if you would feel any impact on total employment."

There are two other reasons why Doehler's wouldn't be hurt seriously, even if the cutback should come tomorrow.

First, the Pottstown plant's defense output is largely ammunition components, he said, and as been highly publicized, ammunition seems to be in short supply.

Part Planting Plans are submitted without charge or obligation. The Plan can be applied over a period of years, with a complete and beautiful picture without wasteful mistakes. Write, or phone, or call at Nursery.
